Our mission is to offer support to one another in an open and trusting way so that feelings and information may be shared with compassion and understanding.

We are all breast cancer survivors and each has traveled her own path as a survivor. Together we are a powerful group who understands what it really means to be a survivor.
Meetings
New Life New Hope Breast Cancer Survivors Group meets on the first Tuesday of each month, at First United Methodist Church, 801 West Avenue B in Garland, Texas. The meetings begin at 7:00 p.m. in Room 103–105.

Medical professionals including breast surgeons, radiologists, oncologists, plastic surgeons, dieticians, lymphedema therapists, and more provide us with the latest updated information about breast cancer.

Goals
1. To provide a comfortable setting for open discussion of personal and family concerns, issues and feelings arising from the diagnosis and treatment of breast cancer.

2. To make available opportunities for discussion and sharing with other breast cancer patients in a safe environment, and to help them utilize various resources.

3. To provide educational opportunities for persons diagnosed with breast cancer so they may achieve better understanding and participation in various treatment options.

4. To encourage improved communication between patients and their family members regarding the impact of the breast cancer experience upon their lives.

5. To offer support to patients during times when their belief system and goals may be undergoing re-evaluation, and to provide faith-based pastoral support upon request.

New Life New Hope Breast Cancer Survivors Group provides emotional support, assistance, contact with medical providers, and additional resources to other co-survivors.

Social support for breast cancer survivors can contribute to improvements in psychological distress, depression, pain, and self image.

Baylor Breast Center
Baylor Breast Center’s clinical staff offers screening and diagnostic digital mammography services, bone density testing, stereotactic breast biopsies and ultrasound-guided procedures. Faster and more efficient than traditional film mammography, digital mammography allows clinicians to obtain crisper images, which is especially important for younger women who have dense breast tissue or for women of any age with fibrocystic breasts. The center’s care team includes certified mammography technologists, radiologists and breast surgeons on the medical staff of Baylor Garland. Breast imaging services are also available at Baylor Diagnostic Imaging Center at Mesquite.

For more information about Baylor Breast Center, please contact a member of the staff at 972.487.5441 or go online to BaylorHealth.com/GarlandImaging.
