Continuum of Services

We use our comprehensive capabilities to guide patients through the entire imaging process, taking great care to educate patients before their appointment about the service they will receive and to make them as comfortable as possible while at our facilities.

Education, Support and Resources

We want you to feel at ease when you come for an imaging procedure at one of the Baylor Diagnostic Imaging Centers. Some details may be helpful before your appointment. For example, it is important to dress comfortably for all exams, particularly removing all metal from your body before an MRI exam as it will be drawn toward the scanner’s magnet. Most imaging scans are painless, but you may need an IV for an MRI, CT, or nuclear medicine exam.

The imaging center staff will help you get ready for your exam and make sure you are comfortable. For more information on what to expect during your imaging procedure, please visit BaylorHealth.com/DallasImaging and select the imaging service you will receive.

Quality Staff and Technology

The Medical Imaging Department at Baylor University Medical Center at Dallas has been a leader in diagnostic imaging services in the Dallas area for more than 25 years.

Our advanced technology, radiology expertise and dedication to the detection of disease has allowed us to provide quality care to thousands of patients. We perform more than 300,000 imaging procedures each year.

The images produced at Baylor Dallas, Baylor Diagnostic Imaging Center at Junius, Baylor Diagnostic Imaging Center at North Dallas, Advanced Imaging Center at Baylor Dallas, and Baylor Charles A. Sammons Cancer Center are done by certified technologists and interpreted by a skilled team of radiologists on the medical staff at Baylor Dallas. Each facility has experienced medical imaging technologists on staff who have dedicated licenses and credentials for their specialty. In addition, more than 50 radiologists on the medical staff at Baylor Dallas have specialty training in breast imaging, body imaging, neurological (brain) imaging, nuclear medicine, PET/CT imaging and interventional radiology.

All equipment at Baylor Diagnostic Imaging Center at Junius and Baylor Diagnostic Imaging Center at North Dallas is accredited by the American College of Radiology (ACR). At all centers, quality guidelines are met in accordance with Baylor Health Care System, ACR, Texas Department of State Health Services, American Registry of Radiologic Technologists, American Registry for Diagnostic Medical Sonographers, and for Junius, the Nuclear Medicine Technology Certification Board for certified nuclear medicine technologists.
